

PARKOURIZER

MORE THAN A JUMP, THE PARKOURIZER

Are you looking for a game to challenge your friends with, or a game to speedrun? If so, then you might want to check out Parkourizer, a parkour first-person game that features an escape from deadly and ugly zombies.

During this escape, you must be careful not to fall from the parkours, as it offers a thrilling experience for both competitive and casual gamers. With its fast-paced gameplay and challenging parkours, you can compete with your friends to see who can complete the levels in the fastest time possible or simply enjoy the rush of adrenaline as you jump over various obstacles and evade zombies.

BOB THE GUY

Meet Bob, our charming character who has put on some weight in the past few days. With your assistance, hoping he can shed those extra pounds. Just joking, he will never lose any weights. Just joking will never lose any weight.

GAMEPLAY

You will have to rely on your parkour skill and reflexes to survive. Jump from platforms and avoid zombies... one last thing, make sure you are not touching the 'ground'.

ENVIRONMENT

The game is set in a city environment that lets you go around the hospitals, police stations, gardens, tall buildings and many more. Explore the city from bottom to top by jumping through various obstacles.

WHAT DO PEOPLE THINK?

"The best parkour game I've played so far, and I can confirm that those zombies are ugly."

- Berke Yildirim

"It's fun. I love it!"

- Batuhan Demir

"Do not play this game while you are alone at home."

- Basil Lim

"Have you considered taking a break from making games and enjoying some fresh air outside?"

- My Mom

Developers are describing the content in the following way:

WARNING: This video game has the potential to trigger seizures for individuals with a propensity towards anger. Player discretion is advised.

- Oguz, The Developer